By A. L. MILLER.
Shreveport, La., June 26.—The Post-City, Tex., a paper of ten years' standing, has today celebrated its tenth anniversary. It is the only paper of its kind in the state, and its success is a credit to the management of its proprietor, Mr. J. M. Post. The paper was first published in 1907, and has since that time been a constant source of information to the public. Its circulation is now over 100,000 copies per week, and it is one of the most influential papers in the state. The paper's success is due to its high quality of news, its timely and accurate reporting, and its attractive and readable format. It is a paper that has stood the test of time, and its success is a testament to the power of good journalism.

Crow On
Shreveport, La., June 26.—A crowd of about 100 persons gathered today in front of the Post-City building to witness the signing of a new contract between the paper and its printer. The contract, which was signed by Mr. J. M. Post and the printer, Mr. W. H. Smith, provides for a continuation of the paper's publication for another ten years. The signing ceremony was a formal affair, and was attended by many of the paper's subscribers and friends. The new contract is a significant milestone in the paper's history, and it is a testament to the paper's enduring popularity and success.

Hubb, body
Shreveport, La., June 26.—The body of a man who was killed in a fire at the Post-City building last night, was today buried in the city cemetery. The man, whose name is not yet known, was found dead in the building, which was completely destroyed by the fire. The fire broke out in the early morning hours, and spread rapidly, causing the building to collapse. The cause of the fire is still under investigation, but it is believed to have been caused by a gas leak. The death of the man is a tragedy, and his family is being assisted by the city authorities.

Shreveport, La., June 26.—Two men, who were arrested last week on charges of stealing from a store, were today released from custody. The men, whose names are not yet known, had been held in the city jail for several days. They were released because the store owner, who had filed a complaint against them, decided to drop the charges. The men are now free to go, and they are expected to return to their homes in the city.

Rock Co.
Shreveport, La., June 26.—The Rock Co., a large industrial concern, has today announced that it will be expanding its operations in the city. The company, which has been in the city for many years, is planning to build a new factory, which will employ many more workers. The expansion is a significant development for the city, and it is expected to bring in a large amount of money. The company's management is confident that the new factory will be a success, and they are looking forward to the day when it is completed.
